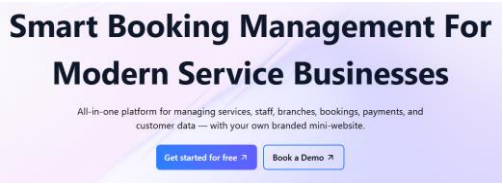
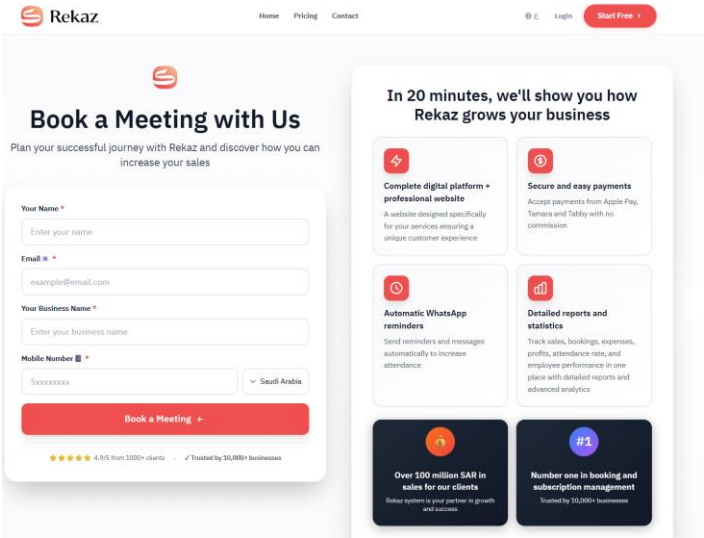
Bokli Feedback



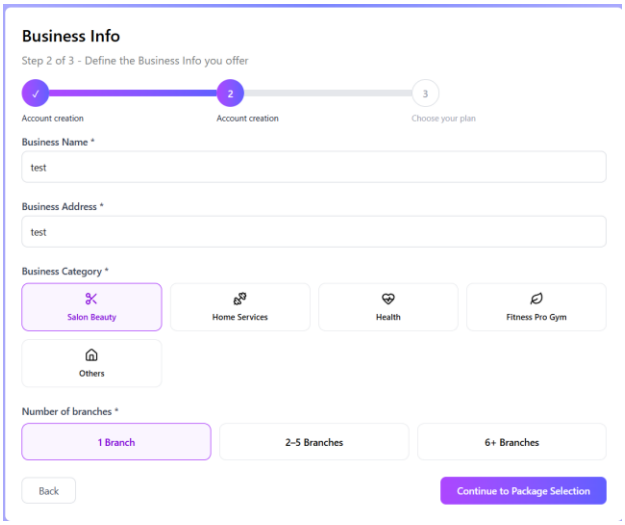
- The “Book a Demo” button should take the merchant to a form where they fill in their name, business name, email and phone number(something similar to the below), please make the design very good and make it very nice similar to the below but with the bokli theme.



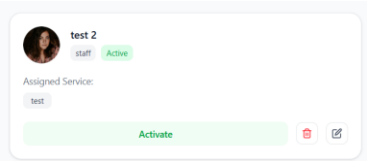
- Here’s some things to fix that I have highlighted before, please fix the progress bar to the following: 1. Account Details 2. Business Details 3. Choose Your plan.
- Also the logos you have used for the business categories are wrong, you have a house logo for “Others” you have a dumbbell logo for “Home service”, this needs to be fixed with the correct logos please as this does not look professional. Below is the core categories you need to add with their respective logos:

Category	Icon Name
Beauty & Personal Care	scissors
Wellness & Lifestyle	sparkles
Fitness & Training	dumbbell
Medical & Clinics	stethoscope
Home & Maintenance	house
Automotive & Detailing	car
Education & Skills	graduation-cap
Events & Experiences	ticket
Professional Services	shield-check
Pet Care & Grooming	paw
Other Services	plus-circle

- At the bottom there should be a box that users should tick that says: ☐ I agree to the Terms of Service and Privacy Policy (please rename Terms & Condtions to "Terms of Service" across the whole site as it sounds much more professional)
- Also if I put the language to Arabic, the category names and the Number of Branches does not turn to Arabic which means this is not language friendly, please kindly fix this.

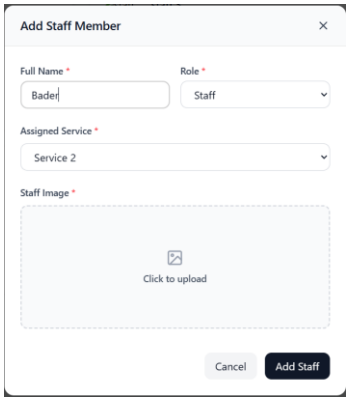


Please remove the default pictures, either the customer does not put a photo or they do its up to them(it is in the Staff management section):

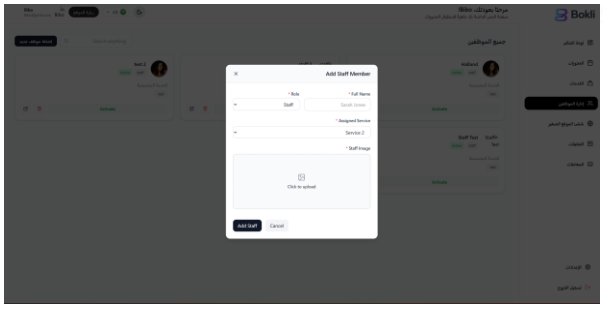


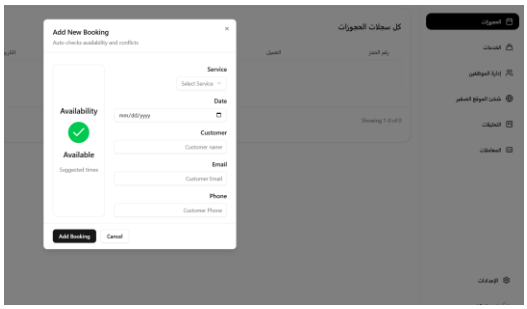
Also please, for adding staff and also for adding services, an image should be option and not mandatory, you should remove the "*" and also I can add them without the image.

When adding a staff member, the "Assigned Service" should be "Assigned Services" because the staff members are able to be assigned to multiple services, so instead of a drop down, there services should be listed in boxed that the merchant can select from and if multiple or one is selected it should be highlighted.



The website should be fully dynamic when it comes to language translation guys, the below should translate: (The whole site should be dynamic and when I switch to arbic or English everything should change too, the below are just some examples).

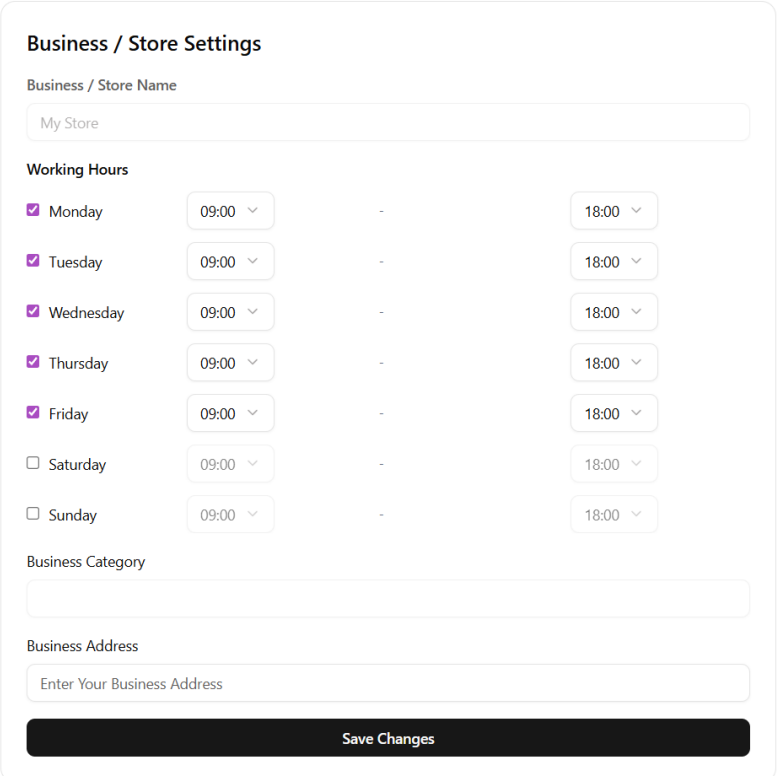




The visit “Visit Website” button and the top right does not work, please fix this as it should work(and no need to logout or do anything else, a solution should be found for this as it should be functional), when I click on it, it takes me back to the bokli home page and logs me out.

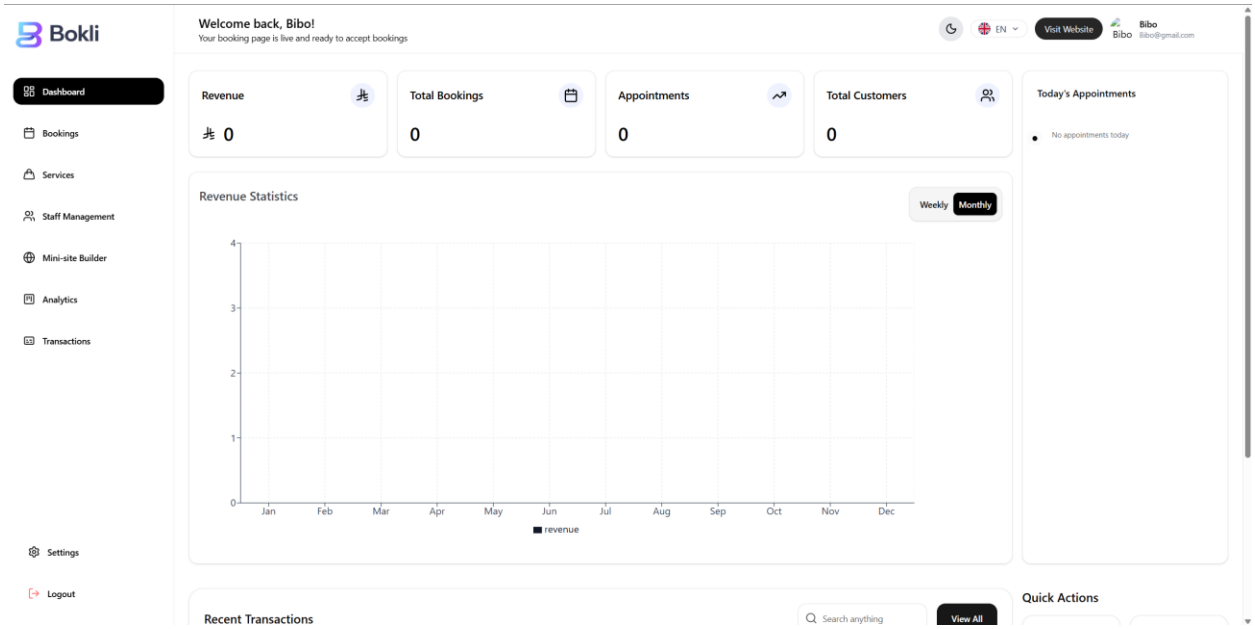
The "View All" button in the "Dashboard", "Bookings", "Analytics" and "Transactions" does not work, please fix it.

The below business information should be pre-filled already as this information was taken during signing up, also the default Opening hours should be Saturday to Thursday from 09:00 to 00:00 and On Friday from 13:00 to 00:00. (This is just default and should be set at that went accounts are created, if the merchant wants to change them, they can and then save the settings.

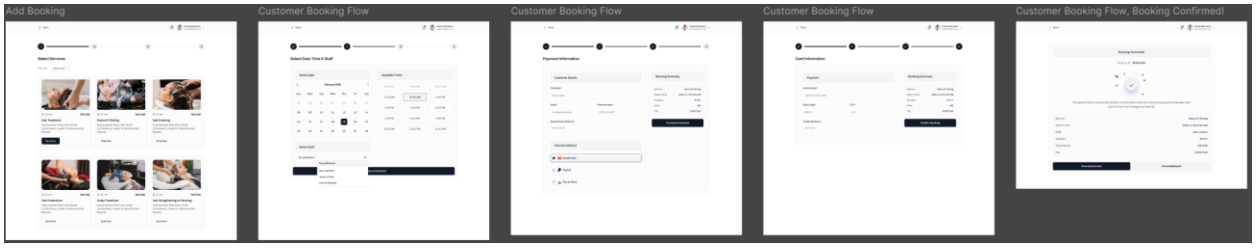


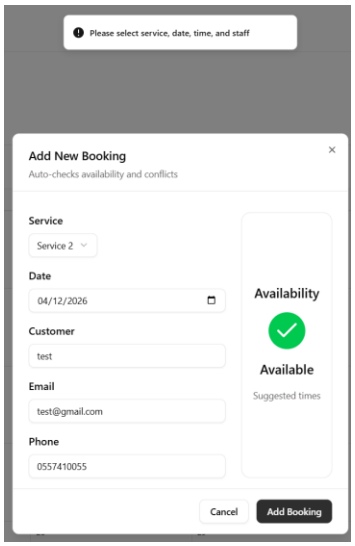
The top service should not be “Haircut”, it should be nothing, as no sales have been made yet, once sales or booking happen, then it should change to the actual top service.

We need to introduce a multi-branch switching feature for premium merchants, where users who have more than one branch can switch between their branches directly from the dashboard via a dropdown in the top header (e.g., “Branch Name ”); this dropdown should only be visible for premium users with multiple branches, and when a branch is selected, all dashboard data (revenue, bookings, appointments, customers, analytics, transactions) should update to reflect that specific branch, essentially creating a branch-based context across the platform; during signup, if a user selects more than one branch, they should be prompted after account creation to define their branch names, and later they should be able to manage them under a new “Branches” section in Settings (edit, add, delete, set primary), with all relevant data tied to a branch_id, and the selected branch should persist across sessions—this is a core premium feature and should be implemented in a scalable way to support future enhancements like branch-level analytics, staff, and permissions.



We need to completely fix the booking workflow, as the current implementation is incorrect and creates unnecessary friction; every merchant (including free plan users) must have a dedicated booking page (not a mini-site) that can be accessed via a direct link and allows customers to book without requiring login, meaning users should be able to proceed as a guest by default, only entering essential information (e.g., name, phone, email), with login/signup being optional and only encouraged after booking (not required before), similar to how platforms like Fresha handle bookings; the current flow that forces users to log in and choose from different services from different merchants does not make sese. Login before booking must be removed, and the correct flow should be: customer opens booking link → selects service → selects date/time → enters basic details → confirms booking (with optional login/signup at the end or post-booking), ensuring the experience is fast, frictionless, and optimized for conversion(This is what we have previously designed and worked on reference below).





I’m still not able to make any booking, and cannot continue to give feedback as I am not able to give feedback after this step.
